BOOKS

UNDERGRADUATE TEXTBOOK: Norwood, F. B. and Jayson L. Lusk. 2007. Agricultural Marketing and Price Analysis. Prentice-Hall. Has been translated to Greek.

ACADEMIC BOOK: Norwood, F. B. and Jayson L. Lusk. 2011. Compassion by the Pound: The Economics of Farm Animal Welfare. Oxford University Press: NY, NY.

ACADEMIC BOOK: Norwood, F. Bailey, Michelle Calvo, Sarah Lancaster, and Pascal Oltenacu. 2014. Agricultural Controversies: What Everyone Needs To Know. Oxford University Press: NY, NY.

NOVEL: Norwood, F. B. 2013. Matrona's Four Children: A Tale of Harmony and Discord. A historical and economic fiction. Independently published, so it's not a "real" publication.

FIFTY REFEREED JOURNAL PUBLICATIONS

- Most valuable methodological contributions concern the development of inferred valuation, calibrated auction-conjoint valuation method, and the out-of-sample log-likelihood model selection method.
- Two articles in the Journal of Environmental Economics & Management.
- Five articles in the American Journal of Agricultural Economics.
- Four articles on excellent teaching and advising.
- Thirteen articles regarding farm animal welfare.
- Twenty-three articles concerning surveys, valuation, and consumer psychology.
- Second most cited American Journal of Agricultural Economics article in 2013

MOST WIDELY-READ AND INTERESTING PUBLICATION

Lusk, Jayson L. and F. Bailey Norwood. 2009. "An Inferred Valuation Method." Land Economics. 85(3):500-514.

MOST INTERESTING TEACHING ACCOMPLISHMENT

Taught a MOOC (massive open online course) titled Farm to Fork to 79 enrolled students and approximately 800 students taking the course for free (non-credit).

MOST WIDELY VIEWED VIDEO

TED* talk titled: A Class Worthy of Netflix, about my Farm to Fork class.

PERSONALITY AND INTERESTS

As a youth Bailey trained and raced horses; competed poorly in the calf roping, team roping, and bareback riding events in rodeo; loved backpacking in the mountains; fished and hunted despite his poor results; became a Zulu Warrior on the NCSU rugby team; and loved playing the guitar, mandolin, and piano despite having zero musical talent. His dream was to publish a novel, and he did, but it was self-published and no one likes it. Economics was the only thing he was ever good at, so he is fortunate that he loves the subject. The Greco-Roman Stoics, the Transcendentalists, Alexander Pope, and Lao Tzu are his greatest source of inspiration. Atlas Shrugged and Les Miserables are his two favorite movies and books; Antonin Dvorak and Dmitri Shostakovich are his favorite composers. Maintaining a high school-like crush on his wife, he wrote her a song and hired a musician to sing it (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ONlw37EP8M&feature=youtu.be>), and he marvels at the two daughters he and his wife created. Is a Quaker. Has a painful nerve condition that makes sitting highly painful and standing painful. For one year it was so painful to lie down that he slept every night floating in a hot-tub, giving him an unusual perspective on life. Was the 2006 Time Magazine Person of the Year (not a joke—look it up). His spirit animal is a dumpster fire, he spends many weekends reenacting the Cold War, and in 2008 he biked across America to raise greater awareness of himself. Also, every anonymous donation given to a worthy cause was actually given by him. Refers to himself as a 'postmodern economist' though he doesn't really know what that means.
